Kompetenzerwartungen

E 6 1 Kommunikative Kompetenzen

E 6 1.1 Kommunikative Fertigkeiten

E 6 Schreiben

Die Schülerinnen und Schüler ...

- verfassen mithilfe inhaltlicher Vorgaben kurze Texte (z. B. persönliche Mitteilungen, Briefe, E-Mails, Reime, kommentierte Bildergeschichten) zu Themen aus ihrer persönlichen Erfahrungswelt.
- achten beim Verfassen von Texten auf sprachliche und orthographische Korrektheit und berücksichtigen grundlegende formale Regeln, z. B. bezüglich der Strukturierung von Texten durch die Verwendung von gebräuchlichen linking words, u. a. next, before, after, then, so.

E 6 1.2 Verfügen über sprachliche Mittel

E 6 Wortschatz

Die Schülerinnen und Schüler ...

- wenden den in vorausgegangenen Jahrgangsstufen erworbenen Wortschatz auch in neuen Zusammenhängen an. Sie nutzen neuen Wortschatz, der sich auf die Themen unter 6.5 bezieht, um sich in grundlegenden alltäglichen Kommunikationssituationen (z. B. bei Wegbeschreibungen) sowie zu vertrauten und aus dem Unterricht bekannten Themen (z. B. Musik) zu äußern. [...]

E 6 Grammatik

Die Schülerinnen und Schüler ...

- [...]
- stellen zeitliche Bezüge her und berichten zunehmend differenziert über Vorgänge und Zusammenhänge in der Gegenwart und Vergangenheit. Sie verwenden grundlegende Strukturen, um über Zukünftiges zu sprechen, und variieren ihre Aussagen.
- simple past (revision) [...]

Hinweise zum Unterricht

Als Einstieg werden die Bilder in vertauschter Reihenfolge präsentiert und im Plenum sortiert.

I'm going to show you a picture story. The pictures might not be in the right order. Find the right order of the story.

In einer Präsentation oder unter der Dokumentenkamera werden die Bilder besprochen, die Lehrkraft beschreibt das Setting.

In the pictures you can see what happened to Charlie when he went shopping at the supermarket last weekend. His cute little dog was with him. Let's have a closer look at his shopping trolley.

Die Schülerinnen und Schüler benennen die Gegenstände auf den Bildern (hier kann man kreativ sein, z. B. bei a bottle of ...), die Lehrkraft achtet auf die Verwendung von ‚some‘.

Anschließend wird Task 1 auf dem Arbeitsblatt bearbeitet.

Let's see what happened next. Read the sentences on your worksheet and tick the correct sentences for each picture. Be careful, more than one sentence can be correct.

Im Plenum werden die geeigneten Sätze besprochen. Im nächsten Schritt überlegen und notieren die Schülerinnen und Schüler, was Charlie und der Hund denken bzw. sagen könnten (Task 2).

In the pictures you can't see what Charlie and his dog said or thought (dogs can't speak, of course). Think about it and fill in the speech or thought balloons in the pictures to make the story look like a comic.

In Task 3 werden die Schülerinnen und Schüler aufgefordert, ihre eigene Geschichte zu verfassen. Zuerst sollen sie sich einen Titel sowie einen Namen für den Hund überlegen. Die Box mit Vorschlägen für mögliche Titel kann bei der Verbesserung auch dazu genutzt werden, zu besprechen, aus welchen Gründen manche Überschriften ungeeignet sind bzw. was eine gute Überschrift ausmacht.

Task 4 dient dazu, die erste Version der Geschichte zu überarbeiten. Zwei Sätze zu jedem Bild sollten hier als Minimum geschrieben werden.

Die Möglichkeiten zur Überarbeitung des Textes werden bei Bedarf vorab im Plenum besprochen (linking words verwenden, Sätze umstellen, Pronomen, eine Frage oder direkte Rede einbauen etc.). Es bietet sich eventuell an, Task 5 vor Task 4 zu bearbeiten, um ein passives Verständnis der Verbesserungsmöglichkeiten zu erzielen, bevor die Schülerinnen und Schüler am eigenen Text weiterarbeiten.

In Task 5 lesen die Schülerinnen und Schüler Story 1 und bewerten diese anhand der Checkliste. Im Plenum wird besprochen, was man tun könnte, um Story 1 zu verbessern. Anhand von Story 2 können die Verbesserungen identifiziert werden.

Mit Hilfe der correction checklist evaluieren die Schülerinnen und Schüler in Task 6 ihre Geschichten nun gegenseitig und geben ein kurzes, konstruktives Feedback.

Die Schnelleren unter ihnen können sich überlegen, wie die Geschichte wohl weitergeht, und das nächste Bild zeichnen.

Aufgabe

Writing a picture-based story

Get Started

Writing a picture-based story

Task 1: Find the correct sentences and tick (✓) them.

Be careful, more than one sentence can be correct.

	☐	Last Saturday was Charlie's shopping day.
	☐	First he went into the supermarket to buy some food.
	☐	Charlie's dog was with him.
	☐	Charlie had lots of things in his shopping trolley.
	☐	Charlie didn't know what to buy.
	☐	After a while he wanted to go and pay for his food.
	☐	Charlie's dog wanted to go outside.
	☐	Suddenly Charlie remembered that he needed some salt, too.
	☐	When Charlie came back his dog was dead.
	☐	When Charlie came back the trolley was empty.
	☐	The food is still in the shopping trolley.
	☐	In the end Charlie's dog paid for all the food.

Task 2: Do it comic style. Fill in at least one speech or thought balloon for each picture.

Task 3: Write the story. Choose the best title for this story and go on writing:

Last Saturday

The hungry dog

Charlie and his dog

At the supermarket

Charlie forgets the salt.

At the shops

Write your title here.

Last Saturday Charlie went shopping with his dog because Task 4: Improve and rewrite your story.

- a) Think about where you could put in some linking words. Linking words make the text nicer to read.

later then because now in the end and but

- b) Add: some more ideas, a question, a sentence in direct speech, some adjectives ...
Change some sentences around to make your story sound more interesting.
- c) Rewrite your story.

Yesterday ...

suddenly – after a while – because

in the end – then –
when he came back

Task 5: Read the following two stories and fill in the checklist.

Story 1

Last Saturday

Last Saturday Charlie was at the supermarket with his dog because ...

... Charlie wanted to buy some food. Charlie had his dog with him. Charlie forgot the salt.

Charlie went back to get the salt. Charlie's dog ate all the food. Charlie came back.

Charlie saw that all the food was gone. Now the dog was sleeping on the floor.

The dog was very full.

Last Saturday Charlie was at the supermarket with his dog because ...

... he wanted to buy some yummy food for his birthday party. He needed some bread, some ham, some fresh tomatoes and some chips. Suddenly Charlie remembered that he didn't have any salt at home. "Oh no! I need to buy some salt!" Then he went back to get it. When he came back he saw that all the food from the trolley was gone. Why was it gone? Then he saw that his dog Alfred was lying on the floor. He was very full. "Oh no, Alfred, did you eat all the food? Crazy dog!", Charlie said. Then he went back and put new things in his trolley.
